HELLO!

Whether you're looking for a reliable event supply partner or need a bespoke solution from concept to completion, we have the creativity, understanding and experience to support you. We pride ourselves on providing a 'non complacent' service with innovative thinking and reliable service at the forefront of our approach to every project regardless of size, scale and/or complexity.

Our technicians, designers and engineers are our most valuable asset with decades of experience in delivering first class events ranging from key involvements in iconic festivals such as Glastonbury to major public events such as the 2012 Olympic Games. We have the expertise and abilities in house to provide a total one-stop service as well as being able to undertake any single element of an event and deliver it to our exacting standards in both quality and safety.

Our equipment is of the highest quality and is maintained routinely by our experienced electricians, riggers and technicians to ensure industry standards are not only met but exceeded.

Through our experiences, we have built a great deal of trust with our customers who repeatedly rely on us to deliver their projects on time and on budget. Our ability to create great solutions, guided by our customers' requirements combined with our knowledge (and not driven by what we have "on the shelf") makes us an unrivalled choice when looking for an event partner.

We look forward to hearing from you!
